

Albany Public Library

READ & REVIEW

Borrow a book to read from the Albany Public Library. It may be fiction or non-fiction. For non-fiction books, it's a great idea to choose a topic that you are interested in learning more about! For fiction books, try a new author whose books you haven't read before! Chat to one of the library staff for suggestions about what to read next.

Once you have read your book, complete the questions and activities on this form and take it to the friendly library staff to receive 2 hours in your Passport to Learning. You can claim up to 10 hours (5 reviews) each year.

Your name:

When did you finish reading this book (month & year)?

Book Title:

Author:

Genre:

I'd rate this book (circle the number stars):

What's one thing you liked OR disliked about the book?

If you read a FICTION book...

Pick one activity to complete below or on a blank page:

Write a short letter to author of the book and include questions you may have.	Create a new cover for the book.
Draw a short comic based on your book.	Which character in this book would you invite over to your house and why?
Write a short letter to one of the characters in the book.	Choose one of the scenes from the story and recreate it as a scene in a film. Record a video of your recreation!

If you read a NON-FICTION book...

Pick one activity to complete below or on a blank page:

What is the most interesting fact you learned?	Design a poster based on the facts and information in your book.
Did you learn any new words? Which words and what do they mean?	Create a new cover for the book.
Find a job that would need to use the facts in this book. How would people doing this job use this information in their work?	Pretend that you are a news reporter! Create a short video, using the information from your book, to teach your audience about the facts you have learned.